The Honorable Stanley R. Resor
Under Secretary of Defense for Policy
Room 3D949
The Pentagon
Washington, D. C. 20310

Dear Stan:

I look forward to your participation in an evening discussion and dinner at CIA Headquarters on Thursday, 22 February as one of a small company of responsible officials and specialists concerned with Soviet nationalities issues. Our discussion will consider both immediate and long-term effects of changes that are taking place in the population of the Soviet Union, mainly in consequence of the higher growth rates of the non-European minorities. We shall be especially interested in the political and economic consequences if, as is reasonable to assume, the minorities become more assertive. We must also consider the probable impact upon the Soviet military and Soviet industry of increasing dependence upon recruits drawn from comparatively backward as well as potentially dissident minority ethnic groups.

Our discussion will be led off by [redacted]
[redacted], our scholar-in-residence working on these issues.
As you know, he is a leading authority on the subject. He will be reinforced by [redacted]
[redacted]
[redacted] who is a leading authority on the Muslim minorities in the Soviet Union, and [redacted] [redacted] another leading authority on the Soviet minorities. From inside the Government and the CIA I am inviting both some of the few specialists on our subject and others who, like myself, may feel they need to know more about it.

I am enclosing with this letter a paper prepared by [redacted] before he joined the CIA in the fall of 1978 together with a three-page Summary. You will find these valuable introductory materials to our
